Practice trends we're seeing

The Braces Comeback: Hype or Reality?

Over 93% of Australian orthodontists offer aligners, yet most orthodontists are still treating the majority of cases with fixed appliances with aligners representing only 24% of the average orthodontist's cases.

Recent orthodontic industry reporting describes a "braces rebound" driven by patient and parent concerns about aligner compliance. Despite the attention in marketing and social media heavily focusing on aligners, the hybrid treatment trend is growing. The discussion is moving away from Aligners vs Braces and towards Aligners + Braces + Motion + Auxiliaries rather than relying on a single modality.
