

Periodontal Therapy and Implant Maintenance

LECTURE & WORKSHOP

This CPD Masterclass is designed to provide dentists and hygienists with the most current, comfortable and economical techniques available for periodontal and implant maintenance. The emphasis will be on diagnosis, treatment planning and clinical management. You'll also develop relevant clinical skills during the hands-on session of the class trialing air polishing and ultrasonic devices on simulation models.

The aims of the course are to:

- Further your understanding of the role of biofilm in periodontal disease susceptibility
- Examine current periodontal disease classifications and how to assess the CAL
- Gain a comprehensive overview of clinical treatment protocols – non-surgical and surgical
- Improve/sharpen your understanding of antiseptics (which one to use?) and antibiotics (when to prescribe?)
- Understand the importance of implant maintenance
- Peri-mucositis and peri-implantitis: how to distinguish between them, when to treat, when to refer and how best to prevent them
- Discover Guided Biofilm Therapy and learn why it's the future of standard care

Dr. Meredith Owen

BSc (Hons), BDent (Hons), DCLinDent (Perio) Candidate

Dr. Meredith Owen received an honours degree in BioMedical Science before studying dentistry at the University of Sydney. She graduated with honours and was awarded the Henry Bruce Maxwell prize for restorative dentistry, an academic merit scholarship, and was a Convocation Medal finalist.

During her student days Meredith received an Oral Health Scholarship for her volunteer work in Laos, was elected Student President, and helped form the Australian Dental Students Association.

After graduation, Meredith served as President of DASUS (Dental Alumni Society of the University of Sydney) and was a member of the Recent Graduates Committee - a subgroup of the ADA NSW (Australian Dental Association New South Wales).

Meredith enjoys all aspects of clinical dentistry but also has a passion for teaching. She is a clinical educator and was a mentor for the University of Sydney - teaching dental students at both the Sydney Dental Hospital and the Westmead Centre for Oral Health. Meredith is currently in her final year of the Doctor of Clinical Dentistry (Periodontics) at the University of Sydney. In her spare time she enjoys hiking, mountain biking, and playing basketball.
