The latest in modern endodontic equipment and techniques

Dr Varayini Yoganathan

Doctor of Clinical Dentistry (Endodontics)

3
CPD HOURS

COURSE OUTLINE

A comprehensive perspective on endodontic treatment and how it can be performed efficiently and effectively. Modern endodontics is rapidly evolving with innovative file types that can create beautiful, conservative root canal shapes. Cleansing solutions and medicaments are changing in their delivery and application and work in conjunction with shaping to produce clean canals. Once canals are clean and dry, they are sealed in three dimensions and restored to function with post and core build-up.

This programme aims to educate participants on the skills required to utilise fifth generation files and understand their application for use. Varayini will discuss how to select effective irrigation and medicaments to complement your shaping techniques and explain how to seal endodontic treatments effectively with a robust post and core system.
